Catalogue 2023-2024

Cast Bolzonella

We took our first steps into the world of professional clothing and corporate uniforms in the 1970s. Two generations of Bolzonella have been running what started out as a small family business.

Today we can say that we have come a long way. We dressed more than 10,000 companies in Italy and around the world, bringing the style and quality of Made in Italy to the five continents.

We like the challenges that our customers offer us every day: customized productions, original garments, technical fabrics... We are aware that in order to win them over, we must know how to amaze them. That is why we focus on uniqueness in our proposals, with sought-after fashionable items and innovative fabrics, following the philosophy of unconventional corporate clothing.

This is the spirit that guides us: bringing the style of Italian dress to companies, with our sartorial touch.

We hope this catalogue will thrill you as it does us.

Enjoy the reading,

Denis Bolzonella

Our Advantages

Custom made-to-order production

Our catalogue includes a wide range of items, but it may be the case that it does not yet meet your needs. In cases like this we offer a service of uniforms design, modifying existing designs or creating completely new ones, made just for you.

Custom pieces of clothing have a minimum of 100 pieces per item.

Comfortable and extra-long sizes

Our collections fit wide size ranges, going so far as to include small or oversize sizes.

Women's dresses can fit from Italian 36 to 68, which corresponds to a 6XL.

Men's suits can fit from Italian size 40 to 70, which corresponds to a 6XL.

Personalization and embroidery

Our Embroidery Department specializes in professional embroidery design.

By studying the shapes of your logo, we will be able to create refined embroideries, to add that detail that will enhance your uniforms.

Employee Uniform Kit

To complement our offerings, we propose several services that will make it much easier for you to manage the renewal of your Uniforms.

From packaging each uniform with the employee's name, to shipping it divided by each location of your company, our services will meet all your needs.

Domestic Laundering

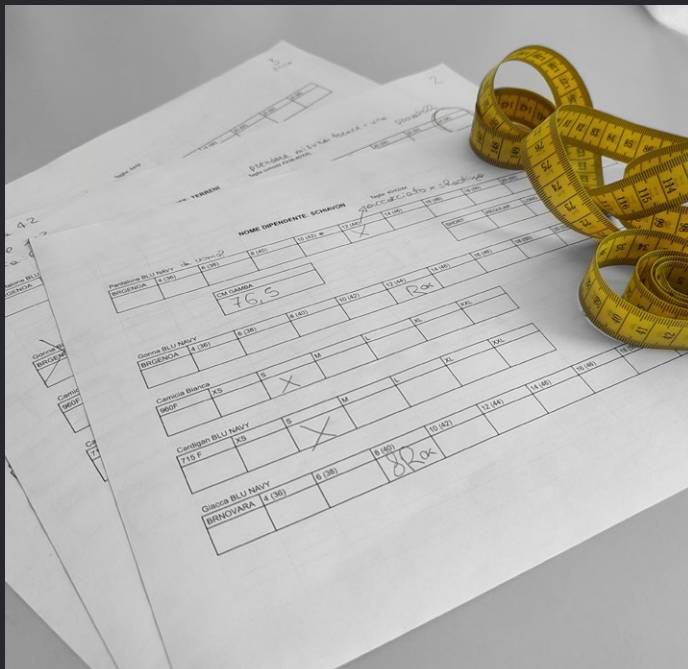

All of our garments are designed for home washing; even garments such as jackets, pants, skirts, and dresses, so that dry cleaning can be avoided.

In addition, we can provide you with the Washing Bag: a mesh bag that guarantees greater protection of the most delicate garments during washing.

Replacement guaranteed

Have you ever bought a garment, but ordered the wrong size and had to replace it? We know that sometimes choosing the right size is difficult, so in case you buy the wrong size, you can proceed to replace the garment with the correct size.

Size Testing Kit

The service provides a kit consisting of the various sizes of each garment.

This will enable you to have your employees try on garments and make it easier to place orders by picking the right sizes right away, without having to call for substitution.

Worldwide shipping

We ship uniforms all over the world, to your headquarters or branches, even taking care of the customs paperwork for each different country. Regulations and procedures related to the export of goods may be subject to certification-related procedures and requirements that vary depending on the destination country.

Fabric features

This type of fabric contains a small percentage of a stretch fiber or is made with a weave that gives elasticity, making the garment more comfortable to wear and flexible in accommodating the body's movements.

This symbol indicates that the fabric has been treated or has properties that allow it to resist dirt and stains.

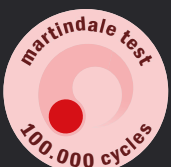

The fabric is treated to repel dirt, stains and splashes, without undergoing changes in weight, appearance, softness, colour or breathability of the garment. The treatment guarantees resistance to water and oil.

Nanotechnology is a technology that makes it possible to change the structure of fabric fibres. The use of this technology delivers stain resistance without the use of toxic substances.

This international mark certifies that all the materials used are harmless to human health and the environment, because the entire production system is subjected to strict inspections.

The Martindale method is used to determine the wear resistance of fabrics. The number shown indicates how many rubbing cycles the fabric can withstand without being ruined.

The breathable property of the fabric maximizes the transmission of moisture from the skin to the outer surface of the fabric, increasing comfort and keeping it cool and dry at all times.

The fabric has properties that limit the proliferation of bacteria.

Composition of the fabric

Lycra® is a fibre with extraordinary elastic properties, and guarantees comfort, fit, freedom of movement and maintenance of shape. It also offers excellent resistance to moisture and mould.

Garments made from 100% organically grown cotton fabrics, meaning no herbicides, fertilizers, plant protection products, pesticides or fungicides are used.

Garments with fabrics partially or totally made of recycled polyester. The material, usually from plastic bottles (PET), is reused and processed into textile fibre, in order to integrate it into more sustainable production processes.

Treatment of garments

The garment can be machine washed, with the wool and “handwash” machine cycle. Dry in the open, away from heat sources.

The garment can also be dry cleaned.

The fabric of the garment will form very few creases during washing, thus making it much easier to iron.

The fabric of the garment does not need to be ironed and can be worn as soon as it is dry without further steps.

Fabric: 54% Polyester, 44% Pure Virgin Wool, 2% Elastane (Lycra®) 270 gr/sqm.

Permanently anti-stain treatment: The surface of stain-resistant fabrics is protected by an invisible barrier that is effective against dirt: drops of water, oil, wine, organic liquids and so forth are unable to penetrate between the fibres and tend to slide off, forming a series of droplets that roll onto the treated surface, from which they can very easily be removed.

Nanotech technology: Nanotextiles are fabrics designed with small particles that give ordinary materials advantageous properties. Nanotextiles with anti-dirt, anti-stain and superhydrophobic properties are possible thanks to the layer formed by polymeric nanofibers.

Casual Collection

In the work environment, dressing casual means dressing more relaxed and less formally and with a more casual style.

MAIN FEATURES:

For trousers you can opt for a chino model, or jeans (without rips or appliqué). Avoid overly bright colours such as red, yellow, but prefer more sober ones, such as black, grey, brown/khaki, and blue.

Wear classic-cut jackets, with a polo shirt or t-shirt, or sweaters or turtlenecks. But let's also not forget about shirts and blouses. Compared to trousers, you can opt for a wider range of colours, but without exaggerating.

Choose soft, comfortable fabrics that conform to the body and promote greater movement.

Below you will find a selection of our casual outfits.
